

the second intermediate element is positioned between the first electrically-conductive element and the third electrically-conductive element.

* * * * *